

giovanni gruttola

44.00 kelvin...the temperature of daylight

HomeAboutPeoplePlacesThingsContact

What I present here is what I see everyday. I photograph what others might pass without noticing.. I'm just an observer of life... I capture moments that to me, caught my eye and were worth the second glance.

You'll find my portfolio pretty diverse... I like almost everything... women more than flowers (I can remember a women's name... I don't know an Orchid from a Tulip). I like landscapes more than birds (landscapes are always there... birds always seem to be flying away from me... and I can't remember their names either).

If you walk away from my images feeling a bit better than before... if you see what I saw and it was worth the double-take... then I guess, that's a good thing.

ciao
~giovanni

all images © giovanni gruttola

This Website was created using Wix.com Start